The average SAT composite scores tend to vary by gender, ethnicity, and major. Males typically earn higher SAT scores compared to females.